

I don't have any particularly goal with this blog, is just an evolution of my old blog which was starting to become obsolete. In any case, I highly recommend you to check my section of Costa Rica vacations spots. You might find useful my experiences in the reviews I wrote about some of the most beautiful Costa Rica hotels and beaches.

The War Zone is also interesting. There you would find lots of videos and interesting facts for training, self-defense, essays about legendary warriors and armies and so much more.
